Happy are the kids who do as they please. Sad are the parents who are not at ease. The gap is too wide. There is no place to hide.

The generation gap has grown.
It leads teenagers to go on their own.
The teenagers want to do things their way.
But the grown-ups insist
That they must obey.

SENIORS' FAREWELL

The long awaited day has come When we must leave our Armstrong home. Our good-byes are now in store, But cherished thee, we shall, forever more.

In awed silence we take our place, Prepared to accept the task we face. You challenged our minds, you made us think. You taught us to avoid disaster's brink.

Teachers, who helped us in our quest To give to life our very best, Your patience and trust shall long endure; For this we are grateful, you may be sure.

Principals, may sound judgment never cease; Guide this school in honor and peace Counselors, who guided our steps aright, Aspire to help others in this endless fight.

To find, as we must, our separate ways, For what is in store we cannot say, But always for you, great orange and blue Our prayers for prosperity remain with you.

MAYE, BRENDA Chaplain

BUSTER, JUANITA Parliamentarian

SENIOR CLASS OFFICERS

Our Creed this June, 1970, is an expression of our beliefs and a symbol of our hope for the future.

CLASS CREED

We believe in God. We believe that, above all, we must follow the way of religion in recognizing the Fatherhood of God and the brotherhood of man.

We believe in our parents. Our parents have given us protection, high ideals and love. We believe that their faith and trust in us will be justified.

We believe in education. We believe that education is necessary to achieve the high purposes of our lives.

We believe in our school. Armstrong, Armstrong, guiding light to all. We believe our stay at Armstrong has prepared us for the world ahead.

We believe in ourselves. Sincerity, strength of purpose, beauty of spirit, dependability, intelligence and nobility of conduct . . . these are the real measures of what one is. We believe we can cultivate these desirable traits.

We believe in and are grateful to our principals and teachers. The ideal school is the result, not so much of good materials, but of good teachers and principals. They prize creativity. They know how and when to maintain discipline. They can judge and evaluate people accurately. They have a sense of humor. They have open minds and are alert to new ideas and new developments in teaching. These are attributes of successful principals and teachers. They who have given us wisdom, knowledge, and understanding are found here in Armstrong.

We believe in our future. We can do all things. One day we'll all be great men and women of this universe. Ours is the quest.

This is our creed, our wish, our goal, our hope, our prayer this June, 1970.

CROWNING ACTIVITIES

With dignity and poise, Sheila Bishop, the newly crowned "Miss Armstrong", begins her reign.

Wearing a broad smile, Doris Farmer, first runner-up, moves with the procession.

A smile of great joy is displayed by Barbara Gaines, second runner-up, as she, too, moves with the procession.

"A Queen is crowned" — This is the thrill of a lifetime for Sheila Bishop as Mr. Peterson, Principal, crowns her "Miss Armstrong".

Miss Armstrong and her attendants leave the field under the traditional arch of sabers.

Now the evening star is fading.
Day is drawing to a close; . . .
Armstrong, Armstrong, alma mater dear, . . .

Some cheering squad members tune in on the beat.

HALFTIME . . .

Majorettes move into action.

Majorettes stepping to the music.

. . . HIGHLIGHTS

Everybody poses for the singing of the alma mater.

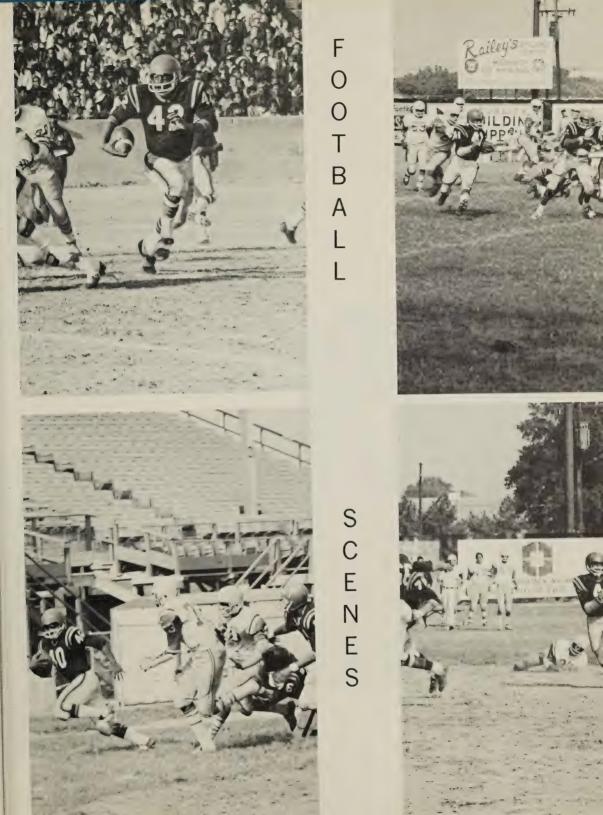

FOOTBALL — Members of the team are: 1st row — Michael Donaldson, Melvin Rose, James Nash, Ronald Winn, Andrew McLaurin, Ronald Betts, Arthur Alexander, Jessie Hampton, Timothy Jones, James McBride, George Brooks, Otis Stokes, Reginald Whiting, Bernard Haskell. 2nd row — Gus Wilkins, Carl Smith, Larry Robinson, Robert Johnson, Harry Clemens, Bobby Robinson, Lewis Robinson, Horace Drake, Earl Whitaker, Larry

SENIOR MAJORETTES — Vera Hardy, Alberto Lee, Louvenia Days, Betty Thompson, Juanita Thomas, Sylvestine Powell, Ida Watkins, Constance Hill, Berna Pitchford; Front Center, Darlene Boyd.

NEW MAJORETTES — Terresita Coleman, Rosemarie Roberts, Vicky Watkins, Marion Jones, Brenda Candle, Pamela Walker, Angela Pearson.

Boult, Vivian McLeod, Patricia Lewis; 3rd Row — Dora Allen, Donna Smith, Doris Farmer, Priscilla Brooks, Carolyn Campbell.

 TRACK — Our track team, over the years has, brought many trophies to us, with pride and no prejudice, thanks to the help of our coach, Bennie Blocker.

WE REMEMBER WHEN . . .

Dr. Edgar Topping challenged the class of '69 to aspire for excellence and to willingly accept responsibility.

Mr. Peterson issued diplomas with the assistance of Mrs. McDaniel, Senior Coordinator, and Mr. Edwards, Assistant Principal.

They make their grand entrance.

Three coins in the fountain? Maybe not, but the beauty is fascinating.

MOTHER OF THE YEAR

M C O S S G E N I A L I

Mrs. Iris Metts, shown above, is being pinned by the former "Mother of the Year," Mrs. Clara Hoggard. This honor is bestowed annually upon a teacher who possesses the qualities of a model mother. Mrs. Metts' family is shown looking on.

Left, Gail Johnson, a contestant for the title of "Miss Armstrong," won the Frances Y. Hooper award and was voted "Miss Congeniality" of 1969-70. The award, a memorial to the late Mrs. Frances Y. Hooper, is given annually to one of the finalists in the "Miss Armstrong" contest.
